1. The Director of Agriculture emphasises the necessity for relieving him of the mass of routine and less important work with which he is now burdened, and leaving him free to devote himself to restoring the spirit and efficiency of the Department, and to the development of important schemes now demanding attention. The control of cattle diseases, the organisation of the Coffee Experimental Station, the establishment of a cattle breeding centre, the organisation of a Veterinary Health Institute, the organisation of an Agricultural College, the development of Agricultural Engineering, with special reference to evolution of implements, and well irrigations are some of the items of work emphasised by him. The study and adaptation to our conditions of the recommendations of the Royal Commission will no doubt add largely to the work of the Director.

Dr. Coleman proposes that, with a view to afford him substantial relief, Mr. H.V. Krishnayya, who as Headquarters Assistant has proved his capacity and won Dr. Coleman's esteem and confidence, might be appointed Deputy Director, and placed in charge of the duties enumerated in the margin.

2) These duties are numerous and exacting enough to require the full time of an experienced and willing officer. The fact that, with the exception of (d) agricultural statistics, they are at present being attended to by Dr. Coleman seems to bear out his contention that he finds he is unable to devote as much time and energy as he could wish to the highest grade of work in his Department.

3) Dr. Coleman thinks that Agricultural Statistics ought to be dealt with in his Department. There is justice in his claim that the verification of figures and estimates and their collection and arrangement are really matters for the Agricultural Department, which is in live touch with the growth and tendencies of agriculture, and has therefore the requisite key for the correct interpretation of agricultural statistics, and for extracting from them lessons for application to the problems of the future.

4) The appointment of the Financial Assistant will not, I think, really relieve the Director of any appreciable part of these duties. The work before this Assistant is to overhaul the present system of accounts, and to evolve a new system which should be both simple and technically efficient, and this will keep him fully employed.

5) I think that Dr. Coleman has made out a case for the appointment of a Headquarters Deputy Director for relieving him of the bulk of his office and routine work; and as experience and the confidence of the Head of the Department are essential requisites for the post, I think that Dr. Coleman's selection of Mr. H.V. Krishnayya might be accepted.

6) Mr. Krishnayya has been drawing Rs.700 plus P.A. Rs.100 since 28.9.1924. Dr. Coleman recommends that he might be given Rs.1,000, which is the maximum pay of the grade of Deputy Director, the P.A. being absorbed. Mr. Krishnayya is now 53 years old. He has on several occasions acted for Dr. Coleman as Director of Agriculture. Dr. Coleman does not ~~propose this~~ regard his present proposals as a permanent arrangement but ~~based it~~ base, his on his need for relief and on the feeling that it would be best in the interest of work that he should devote ~~all his attention~~ during the time before him all his attention to laying broad and sound foundations for the future.

7) I think the Director's proposals may be sanctioned. The cost can be met from savings.

8) While I ~~agree with~~ generally agree to the proposals formulated by Dr.Coleman for relieving him from the ordinary routine work of the Department with a view to enable him to devote more time for higher work, their financial implications require careful consideration.

9) Under the existing orders the grade pay of the Head quarter Assistant to the Director of Agriculture is Rs 300 - 25 - 500 and against this grade, Mr.H.V.Krishnayya is now drawing a pay of Rs 700/- plus personal allowance of Rs 100/-. It is now proposed to raise the status of the Head quarter Assistant to that of Deputy Director and give ~~him~~ the maximum pay of Rs 1,000 to the present incumbent. Though the appointment is proposed to be declared as temporary, reduction of status and emoluments to the office at a future date will be very unlikely. There will undoubtedly be permanent increase of expenditure.

10) The question as to how far the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Agriculture are worthy of adoption in Mysore is being examined by the Director and also by the Board of Agriculture. Possibly they might recommend improvements in the working of the Department involving increase of staff and expenditure. It seems to me to be desirable to take up the present proposal along with any other recommendations that might be made by the Director as a result of the examination of the report above referred to.

I may in this connection refer to what has been published in the Madras papers.

11) The proposal to create among others a post of Head quarter Deputy Director in the Madras Agricultural Department does not appear to have been accepted by the majority of the Finance Committee on the ground that the large expenditure proposed for the reorganisation of the Department was " not directly calculated to improve the lot of the agriculturists, a scheme for which alone was needed at the present moment (Vide Hindu of the 14th January 29).

12) I have referred to this criticism only with a view to emphasise the need for considering together all the proposals that may be formulated by the Director in connection with the Budget programme of the next year.

13) I am in general agreement with the H Secy. As a permanent measure a personal asst to the Director of the grade of asst Director should, I think, suffice. There are no doubt personal considerations in regard to Mr Krishnaya, & I would have no objection to give him an increase of emolument, if it will not be our hands in regard to his successor. The matter may perhaps be considered in Council.

"As a permanent measure a Personal Assistant to the Director of the grade of Assistant Director should, I think, suffice. OFFICE OF THE SECOND MEMBER OF COUNCIL

No. 4213

Dear Mr. Rama Rao,

Your D.O. letter No. 5417/ A&E.14-18-12. of the 24th. instant.

In connection with the important question to which you refer I think it but fair to myself to explain the conditions which have confronted me during the past ten months.

Partly due to the policy of retrenchment which had been followed for some years and partly to other causes, the work of the Department has shown very little expansion during the past five years. There had been no increase in the district staff and the results of my inspections indicate that even among the existing staff in the districts, a distinct falling off in efficiency had taken place. The supervision of district work had undoubtedly slackened. As an instance, I may note one case where I found that the supervising officer had not visited a particular range for a period of six months prior to my inspection and this was a range where serious irregularities were discovered and the range clerk has since been dismissed.

The lack of cohesion between the various sections of the department was only too painfully apparent. One of the chief causes of this is the failure to hold a departmental conference for a period of three years. As a result of this, there has been no opportunity for ~~the~~ the district staff to meet those of the scientific sections. The connection between the more intelligent and progressive agriculturists of the State through the Agricultural and Experimental Union had also to a great extent been lost as the Union had fallen into a practically moribund condition.

I have outlined the situation not with the object of criticism but to indicate the position with which I have been faced and the amount of energy, both physical and mental I have had to expend in an attempt to restore the spirit and efficiency of the Department.

The position which I have outlined above was enough to absorb all my time and energies,but in addition,I have had a very great deal of important work in other lines. I may mention as some of these,the partial reorganization of the department's staff,the putting of the Serum Institute on a sound basis,the working up of a scheme for the control of cattle diseases, the organization of work on the Coffee Experiment Station and the establishment of a spirit of co-operation with coffee planters and the investigation of an agricultural colony scheme. At the present moment I am engaged in working up a scheme for a cattle breeding station which has itself involved extensive touring and inspection work,and which will,if approved by Government after its submission,add very considerably to my regular duties. Lastly, I come to the question referred to in your letter. While much that is contained in the Report of the Royal Commission is more or less common knowledge,still it contains much matter which is of very great importance to us in Mysore and it is certain to have a very marked effect on the development of agricultural work in India during the next ten years. I look upon the preparation of a note on this report as a very serious duty and it is certainly not one that I can deal with in odd moments snatched from the time required for regular duties.

It seems certain that if we are not to fall rapidly behind the rest of India in matters connected with agricultural progress,I should devote much attention during the next two or three years to the preparation of schemes for expansion and to the carrying of such schemes into effect when they have been sanctioned by Government. In addition to the cattle breeding scheme to which I have referred above,such schemes as the organization of an Agricultural College,the development of a Health Institute from the Veterinary side and the development of an Agricultural Engineering Section in the Department to meet the needs of implement improvement and well sinking in the State will,I believe have to receive much attention so that it seems highly probable there will be an increasing demand upon my time in this direction. Under these circumstances,I feel I am justified in approaching Government with a request for some substantial relief from the office and supervisory work which I am now attempting to carry.

At the present moment I have in Mr. H.V.Krishnayya a most excellent officer as Head quarters Assistant who has relieved me of a great deal of my office work. However his duties have not been defined by Government and if he is to be expected to take over the responsible work I wish to hand over to him,his status and pay should undoubtedly be improved.

I propose that Mr. H.V.Krishnayya be appointed Deputy Director of Agriculture at Headquarters. I propose that he shall deal with the following matters; (a) all business connected with the purchase and sale of implements and manures. (b) the inspection of subordinate offices of the department and routine correspondence with these offices. (c). Routine correspondence with Government including the submission of regular statements and returns in which cases,he should be empowered to sign for me.(d) agricultural statistics about which I refer below. (e) routine financial matters such as scrutinizing and countersigning T.A. bills,Abstract and Detailed Contingent Bills (f) the direction of the Head Office and other routine matters which Mr. Krishnayya is at present dealing with.

As regards Agricultural Statistics,there is much required in this office as regards the statistics of work actually done in the various departments under my charge which is not now receiving the attention it requires. In addition,yield statistics have to be collected and collated for the Quinquennial Return and I regret to say here also,much less attention is being paid to the subject than it deserves. Lastly there is the annual review of the Season and Crop Report. To this I have devoted all the time that I could conveniently spare but feel that the review should be much more thorough than it is. As a matter of fact the whole question of Agricultural Statistics requires careful overhauling and an officer with knowledge and status should be made responsible for the publication. I personally feel that this can best be done in the Agricultural Department,a view that has been accepted and acted upon in British India.

As to Mr. Krishnayya's fitness for increased responsibility,I may point out that he has been associated with me for the past twenty one years and I can safely say that no one else in the Department understands my views and aims so well as he. He is a man in whose judgment and loyalty I have every confidence and I can say that he has never let me down. He is further a man of great tact and I have never once in the long years I have known him put his personal interests above those of the Department.

The above proposals if accepted will lift a heavy weight from my shoulders. During the past few months,I have felt that I have been working under a considerably higher pressure than I could maintain. I am by no means so strong physically as I once was and I find the effects of this pressure making itself apparent in my work - even in my communications to Government. You must have noticed that some of my communications even on important subjects have shown evidence of haste in preparation. This has I believe not been due to any premature decay of mental powers but solely because I have had to work against time and I was thoroughly tired out at the time the communications were written. I am particularly anxious to avoid this in the future and to give to the service of Government and the State the best I am capable of.

Mr. Krishnayya will be able to take on this increased responsibility only if he is relieved of much of the work that he is now doing. As a matter of fact,he now has to devote a great deal of his time and attention to work that would be taken off his hands by the Financial Assistant asked for in my letter No. ROC.750 of 27-28 of July 10, 1928 to the Financial Secretary. If in addition to this we are able to get an efficient Office Manager who is a graduate in place of the present incumbent,something which,as you know,I am very anxious to do,Mr.Krishnayya would,I believe have the time to devote to this more responsible work.

The increased responsibility which these proposals would place upon Mr. Krishnayya should I think be recognized not only by an increased status but by an increased pay as well. He is now drawing a pay of Rs.700/- with an allowance of Rs.100/-. I would recommend that his pay be raised to Rs. 1000/- and the allowance absorbed. Mr. Krishnayya has I believe about two more years to serve if he is given no extension. I would not suggest that this be made a permanent appointment altnough I believe two Deputy Directors will be required for the regular supervision of work in the State. My own service in the State terminates in the ordinary course in another four and a half years and during that time I should like to devote as much of my time as possible to the laying of broad and sound foundations for the future. The proposals I have made will,I believe,provide me with the relief necessary to enable me to do this and I trust they will receive the very sympathetic consideration of Government.

The increased expenditure for the current year can be met from the savings in salaries which, owing to the time taken in getting through applications, will amount to about Rs 4000/- by 1 st. December. There will probably be a saving of Rs. 5000/- under this head.

Yours Sincerely,

Leslie Coleman
